

Welcomes

Christopher Covelli

EXECUTIVE CHEF

Chef Christopher Covelli is a graduate of the French Culinary Institute in New York City where he was trained by world-renowned chefs including Andre Soltner and Alain Sahac. His background, training and living experiences have enabled him to speak five languages and specialize in Classic French, Italian and Spanish cuisine as well as American Haute Cuisine.

Chef Covelli's cooking expertise earned him invitations as guest chef for four James Beard Foundation Dinners. Until recently, he was owner and chef at L'Uva Restaurant on Cape Cod, MA. Chef Covelli has earned five Wine Spectator Awards of Excellence among other numerous cooking awards.

Currently Chef Covelli is the senior chef instructor at Toscana Saporita Cooking School in Lucca, Italy. He serves on the International Advisory Board for Florida Wine Fest. He has been featured in numerous publications and currently writes a monthly cooking article for Living Out East and on the Bay magazine. Chef Covelli is General Manager/Executive Chef of Cosimo's Too! restaurant in Sarasota, FL, and he is a local TV chef personality on ABC 7 in Sarasota.
