

Prayers For Kristina And Lucas: A BRIGHT LOVE

The past year brought the need for a lot of prayers and thoughts to a great Sarasota Family. Kristina and her son Lucas are surviving with a disorder called Mast Cell Activation Disorder. Jedidiah, husband and dad, is keeping it all together with the help of the devoted parents of Kristina, Linda and Jim Daly, as well as many other family and friends. This genetic mutation can make a person sensitive to a variety of triggers releasing excessive histamine causing a reaction of rash, pain, severe allergic reactions and even anaphylactic shock. Recently she had a brain stem stroke while seeking treatment for her son out of state, causing paralysis of all her muscles leaving her with communicating only with her eyes and will. Recently using a blinking method, Kristina was able to relay to her mother "God said I will speak".

Please take into your hearts this new year, the Brightbill and Daly families by providing prayers and any support you may have to offer as their lives are inundated with needs, financial, emotional and physical as living with genetic disorders require life-long management that is not covered by insurance.
